How LETS works

South Powys LETS is a Local Exchange and Trading System.

LETS is a local, multi-choice, flexible bartering system. It enables local people to receive all kinds of goods and services from one another without the need to spend money.

When you join you become a member of a non-profit making club. Members are able to avoid the problem of traditional barter - when the Offers and Wants of two people wishing to trade do not always match up.

The scheme distributes to all members a Directory of goods and services offered and requested. Through this members make contact and can earn credits with one member of the club while they spend them with another. No interest is charged to those 'in debt' or paid to those 'in credit'.

South Powys LETS undertakes to record all transactions between members in a currency called Beacons and to publish regular accounts accessible to all members.

Before you join you should carefully read the Members Agreement on the attached leaflet, which outlines the commitment of members.
